

Global Executive Master's in Hospitality Leadership

If you are passionate about hospitality, and ambitious to succeed, it's time to get serious about realizing your leadership potential.

The Global Executive Master's in Hospitality Leadership fills your managerial toolbox with the knowledge and skills that will give you a crucial edge in the race to the top.

Leveraging the combined strengths of Glion and ESSEC Business School – both world leaders in their fields – this Executive Master's features four modules of bespoke online learning supported by immersive Residential Weeks held at Glion and ESSEC campuses in four countries.

Study at your own pace alongside your present role; enjoy face-to-face learning and exceptional networking opportunities; and graduate with a triple-accredited Master's degree worth 30 US credits.

Program highlights

12 months*

Part-time program featuring 12 months* of distance learning, with an average of 15 hours' study per week.

4 modules

Four leadership-focused distance learning modules of 12 weeks' duration each.

4 global residential weeks

Four on-campus residential weeks across Glion and ESSEC campuses in Montreux, Singapore, London and Paris, featuring face-to-face classes, workshops and discovery field trips.

*Business Research Project can be completed up to 18 months from the start of your program.

View the online brochure

Watch the program video

Intake

Next intake
November 2024

1 research project

Business Research Project based on a real-world commercial challenge.

1 accredited Master

This degree is accredited by three internationally recognized bodies: AACSB, EQUIS, and NECHE and worth 30 US credits.

CONTACT US
+41 (0)21 966 35 35
info@glion.edu
glion.edu

Your Global Executive Master's study pathway

